

DANIELLE MORSE

Danielle is 19 and lives in Madron

My parents split when I was 11 and I've always blamed myself for this and growing up I've had many personal issues which I've never resolved. I moved to a school in Oxford when I was 12 and found school life very hard. I was bullied for the first 2 years of secondary school which really knocked my confidence. I went to college but due to depression and confidence issues, I left after about 3 months and moved back to Cornwall. Being on the course has seriously changed my life. I now realise there is light at the end of the tunnel. In 5 years' time, I would like to have visited many places in the world, and be aiming towards a head chef position in top restaurant.
