

EMILY HUNT

Emily is 21 and lives in Marazanvose

My mum and dad split up when I was 8 so I grew up with my mum and step dad. At school, I was OK at most things but messed around too much and preferred drama and music to anything more academic. I didn't really try my best. I went to sixth form when I left school but went off the rails so only managed a year and a half. After a year of doing 'not very much' I was forced to get a job and have been working since 2007.

It feels amazing to be on the course and when I graduate next year, I hope to progress in the industry and travel to Australia.
