

JAKE STEABLER

Jake is 21 and lives in Penzance

I was born in Truro and my dad left when I was very young, so I grew up with my mum, brother and sister. My mum was a star and did a great job bringing us up. I didn't enjoy school and didn't do very well. When I left, I got a carpentry and joinery apprenticeship, but didn't get on with it so went back to college to try furniture making. That didn't work out either. I started hanging around with the wrong crowd and getting into trouble on a regular basis. I am just ecstatic about getting on the course. I'm really looking forward to getting stuck in and learning as much as I can. In 5 years time I hope to be earning a good wage as a chef and one day, my dream is to own my own restaurant....watch this space!
